A Lost Point.

Kersey taxes all dogs one dollar a head. Had the Mugwumps known this they would have raised a big bue and cry on election day, claiming that the tax of 90 cts, on $100 would any of Mr. Mason's old patrons or make a dog taxed at one dollar the friends and patrons of the new worth one hundred and ten dollars. This would have been a great point had the Mugs known | Those who are overlooked under it in time.

Too Many Papers

There is a proposition on foot mong merchants and business men to dispose with at least three newspapers in this city. There are now our dailies and one weekly, and beyond ore morning and one even ing paper advertisers do not care to 20. What is said in one morn ing and one evening paper becomes no better known if a dozen more papers in Carson should be started to say it.

Merchants who have paid money for advertising in superfluous papers realize this, and feel that they are simply being bled to gratify the private vanity of some one who is anxious to experiment with running a newspaper at the Capital. The Republican party look at it in the same way. Two papers can present the party claims as well as
